

Stephen Lyon writes for ePrivate Client on whether arbitration is the right route to resolution in a more complex divorce.

9th June 2021

Stephen Lyon examines whether arbitration is right for those in protracted or bitter divorce proceedings and outlines the sanctions a court can impose that are not available to an arbitrator.

To read the full article click here.