

4PB Welcomes 2024/25 Pupil Cohort

1st October 2024

We are delighted to extend a warm welcome to our exceptional pupils, Imogen Watkins, Ciara Coleman, and Josephine Moreton, who join chambers today.

Imogen Watkins brings with her a wealth of experience, having worked as a County Court Advocate prior to starting her pupillage. Over the course of more than 700 court hearings, she honed her skills in advocacy and drafting across a broad range of legal issues, from property disputes to complex contractual matters. Imogen will be supervised by Chris Stevenson, Simon Rowbotham, Andrew Powell, and Lucy Cheetham.

Ciara Coleman also joins us with a solid foundation in advocacy, having appeared in over 500 hearings as a County Court advocate. In addition to representing clients in court, she accepted instructions and carried out drafting work across a wide range of civil matters. She will be under the supervision of Chris Barnes, Katharine Bundell, Michael Edwards, and Amean El Gadhy during her pupillage.

Josephine Moreton rounds out this exceptional group, joining us after gaining significant experience as a paralegal at a boutique family law firm in Central London. Her expertise in Financial Remedy and Private Children Law matters, combined with her commitment to Pro Bono work, acting as a McKenzie Friend in family court, highlights her passion for family law. Josephine will be supervised by Greg Davies, Sophie Connors, Mani Singh Basi, and Mai-Ling Savage.

We look forward to watching Imogen, Ciara, and Josephine flourish as they embark on this exciting journey with us.
