

Judith Murray KC and Rachel Chisholm Appeared in The Times Today Discussing the Impacts of Economic Abuse in the Family Courts

16th January 2025

In an article published in The Times, Judith Murray KC and Rachel Chisholm discuss how abusers “seek to use the court process to perpetuate further abuse”.

Their piece, titled “Family courts must not let themselves be used as tools of abuse”, highlights the tactics employed by abusers, the impact on victims and the challenge facing the family court “to manage the process while guarding against attempted abusive behaviour”.

Click here to read the article.